BackYard Lyngen Trip 2018

As soon as Spring 2018 is hitting the Austrian Alps we will move again up North to the LYNGEN ALPS in NORWAY to extend the touring season. THE BACKYARD LYNGEN TRIP is an awesome Adventure with Mountains reaching out of the Ocean, and widely untouched Nature where we will have Runs all the way down to the fjord beaches. 350 km north of the Arctic Circle, we have a comfortable typical Norwegian Wood Lodge to us sitting right on the Fjord. We enjoy splitboardtours directly from and to the lodge, full board, Hot Tub, Sauna, relaxed Norway style and fresh fish we can catch directly from the boat.

Private motorboat and Van are our ways of transport up there, so we can directly get dropped off from the boat at the start of the tour or get picked up after scenic tours.

With this set-up we cut down transportation time and we can react to the quick weather changes up north in the Lyngen Alps. + it is very exiting & unique to start a splitboardtour out of a boat :)) Guided by State certified Snowboardguide.

THE TRAVEL/Flights

Saturday is the day of arrival and departure. PLEASE take care on your own about the flight to TROMSO. From the airport Tromso we will pick you up with the van and bring you to the lodge. This ride will be about 2 hours. The next Saturday you will be having a ride back again to Tromso Airport.

Most of the flights to Tromsø have a stopover in Oslo. In Tromsø airport there is no Toll Customs. So the mission is that when you arrive in Oslo you need to take out your luggage and walk through customs and check it in again. When booking your flight make sure to plan 2 hours layover in Oslo. then there will be no stress.

Everything shorter than 1 hour will be very risky and you might not catch your plane or your luggage will not arrive. Your arrival and departure time in Tromsø should be between 12.00 noon and 5 pm. All flight arriving & departing before and after can cause problems with ferry connection and other transfers. Only within this times the pick up and drop off can be assured.

INSURANCE:

Make sure to get an insurance which covers accidents while backcountry Skiing. Like the Alpenverein in Austria.

Touring LEVELS

ASCENT

In order to really enjoy the tours you should be able to hike 1200 vertical uphill meters in the Alps. On sealevel it is much easier and the uphill in Lyngen will range between 800 and 1500 vertical meters per day. You can easily train that, even in a city, let me know if you want to know how to train for the Lyngentrip!! it might sound a lot to you but is no problem if you are generally fit and willing to go for it. We go touring every day but of course we will adapt the intensity of the tours to the weather and group. Several times per day of changing from skins to board and back is no exception.

DESCENT

LEVEL 2-4, WE ARE aiming for long & safe enjoyer runs from summit to the sea with the best conditions as possible. 1-3 runs per day is average. We will be riding also a lot of different snow conditions which you should be able to ride. From nice powder to icy conditions we will find us in terrain up to 38 degrees at some key points.

Boat

Depending on the daily tour plans we have different ways to access the foot of the mountain. Tours are without road access, islands and where waterway is shorter than landway we are using our private motorboat to bring us to the start of the ascent. And if we ride down and land on some remote beach after a day of touring, we will get picked up by our boat transfer. That is very efficient and super special about the tours in Lyngen :)))

Lodge

Our Base is a nice cosy Lodge directly on the fjord on the north peninsula of the Lyngen Alps. Outdoor Sauna and Hot Tub sweeten up our days after long tours. We enjoy a full board service from our private chef, eat plenty of fish and there is enough for everybody. On the rich breakfast buffet you have the chance to make your lunch sandwiches. 3-4 Beds per Room.
